

David

I want the water because water is important to you. Without it you could die in 2 days. I picked books because they can prevent boredom. They also can keep you smart and imaginative. I picked food because you need food. It fills your stomach and make you last for weeks.