Summary of 1 piece of work

Jason Arron can make some of the most epic, intense, thrilling stories but what I never expected was how well he could write a deeply emotional story.

Wolverine: Weapon X. #16 This story has absolutely no action, it is a simple tale about Logan aka Wolverine, doing his buddy Nightcrawler one last favor, take a piano up a mountain and too a village. This story's greatest feat is telling a story that even if you knew nothing about these characters. You would still be able to understand the relationship behind the two and the history they had together. Its an amazing read and one that really touches your heart.

Biography

He was born in Jasper Alabama Jan 28th 1973

He was inspired to write because his cousin wrote The Short-Timers witch inspired Full Metal Jacket.

Graduated University of Alabama

He began in 2001 where he won a contest with an 8 page Wolverine Script and was used in Wolverine #175

He continued writing comics like the Incredible Hulk, Thor: God of Thunder and Wolverine, my favorite.

He is leaving Thor in 2020 with his last comic books and moving onto the Avengers.
